An Act to Incorporate the Baldwin Institute, of Middleburg, Cuyahoga County.

WHEREAS, Mr. John Baldwin, of Middleburg, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, has made a generous donation to the North Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for the cause of education, consisting of land, and a suitable building thereon, for a seminary of learning; and whereas, said conference having accepted the said donation, and intend establishing there an institution for the promotion of general education; therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That, Thomas Thompson, William Runnells, Wesley J. Wells, William C. Peirce, Wesley Brock, Lorenzo Warner, Holden Dwight, John Baldwin, Alfred Holbrook, Lonson Brown, Horace F. Adams, Ancil J. Pope, and Isaac Ward, and their successors, be, and they are hereby created a body politic and corporate with perpetual succession, by the name and style of the Trustees of the Baldwin Institute; that, by their corporate name aforesaid, they may contract and be contracted with, sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded in any court of competent jurisdiction, in any manner of action whatsoever, may have a common seal, may change or renew the same at pleasure, and shall hold their offices until their successors are appointed.

SEC. 2. That the successors of the above named trustees shall be appointed by the North Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, or by such conference of said church as may hereafter include said institution within its bounds.

SEC. 3. That said trustees and successors shall be capable of receiving, acquiring, and holding by gift, grant, purchase or otherwise, any real estate, real, personal or mixed, to the amount of three thousand dollars, of annual income, may sell, dispose of and convey the same, provided such property be not diverted from the express will of the donor.

SEC. 4. The said trustees shall have the power to establish an institution of learning, with a male and female department; elect all members of the faculty thereof, except the president or principal, who shall be appointed by the aforesaid conference; prescribe the course of study; make all rules, regulations and by-laws which they may deem expedient for the government of the said institution; and transact all business of said corporation; provided, the same be not inconsistent with the laws and constitution of this State or of the United States.

SEC. 5. A majority of the board of trustees, at any regularly called meeting, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SEC. 6. The trustees shall have power to elect from their own number, a president, secretary and treasurer, who shall perform the duties severally pertaining to their offices.

SEC. 7. That any future legislature may alter or amend this act, provided that the title of any property acquired or conveyed under its provisions, shall not be affected thereby, nor diverted from the literary, scientific and benevolent purposes originally designed.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS.

The foundation of nearly all of our Christian colleges has been laid by the benevolence of Christian people. There is perhaps no better way to promote the welfare of the Church, the State, and the individual, than by means of the schools and colleges which give sound training under distinctly Christian influences.

The rapid growth of Baldwin University within the past few years calls for increased liberality, especially from the churches and the conference which control and guide its affairs.

For the convenience of those who wish to make a devise or bequest of their property to Baldwin University, we append herewith a proper form :

IN THE NAME OF THE BENEVOLENT FATHER OF ALL.

I, A.....B....., of....., do make and publish this, my last will and testament, as follows :

Item First—I give and devise, etc.

Item Second—I give and devise to “THE TRUSTEES OF BALDWIN UNIVERSITY,” and its successors and assigns forever the following lands and tenements (description), in..... county, in the State of.....

Item Third—I give and bequeath to “THE TRUSTEES OF BALDWIN UNIVERSITY” the sum of.....dollars, to be paid by my executor out of my estate within.....months after my decease.

In testimony whereof, I hereto subscribe my name and affix my seal, this.....day of ....., A. D.....

{ Seal. }

A..... B.....

Signed and acknowledged by the above named A.....
B.....testator, as his last will and testament, in our presence; and signed by us in his presence, and at his request, as subscribing witnesses to the foregoing last will and testament at the date last aforesaid. C..... D.....

LIFE ANNUITY.

The University desires to call especial attention to its Annuity Plan, which is a very desirable investment for those who wish to enjoy an income from their property during life, and to perpetuate their Christian influence and teaching after their death.

The University will receive money, stocks, bonds and other personal property, also productive real estate, and pay to the grantor or donor during life a reasonable annuity. Said annuity is paid in semi-annual installments, and is free from all taxes.

Fuller information can be obtained at any time by writing to the President of the University.

UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS.

The University offers a brief sketch of the new buildings with unusual satisfaction. For years past the University had so completely outgrown the accommodations provided for it by the toils and sacrifices of a former generation, and was so hampered by the encroachment of the great quarrying interests, that a change of location and new buildings had become an imperative necessity. By means of the liberality of the citizens of Berea, supplemented by the efforts of the University Trustees, we have now a new campus with an area of about twenty acres, entirely removed from sight and sound of the quarries, in the center of the growing section of the village, and within ten minutes' walk of the railway station. The electric street railway between Berea and Cleveland passes in front of the campus. German Wallace College is only a few steps distant.

RECITATION HALL.

The first new building, known as Recitation Hall, is completed, and is in present use.

This building has attracted attention on account of its architectural beauty and adaptation to its purpose. It is constructed of Berea stone and has three stories above the basement. The wood work is of red oak, Georgia pine and cherry, all finely finished. The halls and stairways are conspicuous for their good taste. The building has seats in its nine class-rooms for 400 students, and 260 sittings in the Assembly room. Each recitation room is well lighted and heated according to the most approved principles of modern public building construction. The class-room seats are tablet chairs of the best and most comfortable style. The Assembly room sittings are opera chairs finished in light mahogany.

The entire Building is heated and ventilated by the Smead system.

Altogether, Recitation Hall is a model of beauty and convenience, and will contribute to the prosperity of the University and to the comfort and happiness of the young men and young women who gather in its halls. The entire cost of this building will not exceed $40,000, every dollar of which has been wisely and economically wrought into a structure worthy of the admiration which has been generously bestowed.

THE PHILURA GOULD BALDWIN MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

This beautiful memorial building is a gift to the University by Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin, Jr., in memory of their beloved daughter, Philura Gould Baldwin, who fell asleep March 6, 1892.

Miss Baldwin was not only a graduate of the University, but was the first librarian under its present organization, and by her intelligent and self-sacrificing labor, the library was brought to its present state of efficiency and value.

The plan for the building is worthy every way of its name and purpose. It has the chief merits of the best modern library buildings. Like the Recitation Hall, this building is constructed entirely of Berea stone. The basement story is arranged for the storage, packing and unpacking of books. The first floor is the library room proper, and has a capacity of from 30,000 to 50,000 volumes. Adjoining the main library room is an office for the librarian. The second story, not regarding the basement, is a reading and study room for the students. Here will be found not only current periodicals and papers, but books of reference and other books that may be of use to students making special preparation in any department of study. The extreme dimensions are about 41 by 66 feet.

THE PHILURA GOULD BALDWIN MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

The interior finish is similar to that of the Recitation Hall. The heating and ventilation is according to the Smead system; the rooms are abundantly lighted and tastefully finished.

The gift of this Memorial Library is very timely and appropriate. The improved methods of work adopted in the different departments make a well arranged and comfortable library building a necessity, and the endearing associations connected with this one will go far to enlist the interest of the friends of the University in enlarging the resources of the library at an early day.

LADIES' HALL.

Ladies' Hall, which was completed in 1884, is practically a new building, and completes the group of modern college buildings. It is a fine edifice of Berea stone, with very pleasant and comfortable rooms. It is heated by steam. The basement story is occupied by the college dining hall, with table sittings for 100 young men and young women. Here the College has solved the problem of expenses so far as they relate to board. Here are found all the advantages of a well ordered home, and good table board at a cost not exceeding the ordinary club boarding in most colleges.

It may be said without the least exaggeration that Ladies' Hall offers a refined and comfortable home for the young women students of the University. The Preceptress gives her time to the supervision of the important interests of the college home, and the young women, whether in sickness or in health, receive thoughtful and affectionate guidance and care.

ATHLETIC FIELD.

Ample grounds have been set apart on the new campus for base ball field, foot ball field and tennis courts.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

LOCATION.

Berea, the seat of Baldwin University, is a thriving and healthful village of three thousand inhabitants, in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, twelve miles southwest of the City of Cleveland.

It is an educational center, having Baldwin University; German Wallace College, the foremost German college of the United States; the German Methodist Orphan Asylum; and superior public schools.

It is a village of religious tone and character, with representatives of the following denominations: Methodist Episcopal (English and German), Congregational, Protestant Episcopal, German Lutheran and Roman Catholic.

It is a local option village, there being no saloons within the village limits. The sentiment of the village is strongly in favor of the law now in force.

It is lighted by electric lights. It is connected with Cleveland by an electric street railway, whereby students obtain city advantages in music, art, and general culture.

It is easy of access by means of the trunk lines—the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, and the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railways.

CO-EDUCATION.

From the opening of the institution in 1846, young men and young women have been admitted to all its departments on equal terms.

DEPARTMENTS.

I. The College of Liberal Arts—which has four courses of study:

1. The Classical Course.
2. The Philosophical Course.
3. The Scientific Course.
4. The Literary Course.

II. The Collegiate Preparatory Department.

III. The Business Department.

IV. The Art Department.

V. The Music Department.

VI. The Elocution Department.

RELIGION.

1. Baldwin University belongs to the North Ohio Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

2. Chapel services are held every school-day morning, and attendance is required. Attendance upon church services Sunday morning is required.

3. There is a Young Men's Christian Association which maintains social religious meetings every week. There is also a Young Woman's Christian Association, whose work is parallel to that of the Young Men's Association.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are four Literary Societies in connection with the college, namely: The Phrenocosmian, the Philozetian, the Clonian, and the Alethean. The first two are for young men, and the last two for young women. They meet on Monday evening or Tuesday evening.

THE LIBRARY.

The Philura Gould Baldwin Memorial Library (a description of the building is given elsewhere) comprises many volumes well selected for uses of undergraduate students, while it possesses a considerable collection of more general character. The Dewey system of classification is used. The reading room is furnished with the best papers and magazines.

THE LABORATORIES.

The Chemical Laboratory is equipped with a complete outfit of chemicals and apparatus for work in general chemistry and qualitative analysis.

Each student is assigned a desk and performs his laboratory work individually, under the direction of the instructor.

The Biological Laboratory is supplied with Leitz microscopes, each having an Abbe condenser and an iris diaphragm and other accessories.

There is also a good microtome imported from Germany. The material needed for study is furnished to the student.

THE GOVERNMENT.

The government of the College relies upon the good character of the students. Students who come as strangers should bring certificates of good moral character.

The Faculty will dismiss any student without notice to the parents, when in their judgment the welfare of the College requires such action.

May 1st .....	20.00

Rooms are furnished, heated and lighted.

First year Normal students reduce above bills by difference in tuition and incidentals (per term $3.50) $10.50 per year.

Music or other extra, if taken, is to be added to above bills at rates given in table of terms.

If a student take extras only, no charge for tuition and incidentals is made.

N. B.—Unearned board money will be refunded, no account being made of less than a week. Unearned fees will not be returned, except in cases where at least a quarter of a term has been lost, and that through no fault of the student. All fees and board money are due in advance. Students regularly absent from boarding hall two days in the week will have 25 cents deducted from their weekly charge, making board to them $1.75 per week. Ministers' sons, daughters and wards will obtain a reduction of one-half from tuition and incidental charges; a like reduction will be made for ministers and candidates for the ministry. The rates to such will be $5.50, instead of $10.00 or $6.50, as the case may be. Scholarships will be accepted for $1.50 per term, but not for those already receiving a one-half reduction, nor for those paying $6.50 in the common school classes. Scholarships will not be accepted for business tuition, nor for normal, nor for any other class of instruction not strictly collegiate, nor leading thereto.

ROOMS AND BOARDING.

Young men room in homes in the village, places of lodging and boarding being subject to the approval of the Faculty.

Whether in private families or in the halls of the College, students are held responsible for the proper care of furniture and other property.

Young women must room and board in Ladies' Hall, unless they room at the home of parents, guardians, or relatives, or unless their parents request, with sufficient reason, that they be permitted to room in the village.

Each student in Ladies' Hall is expected to furnish her own towels, napkins and napkin-ring, two sheets and two pillow cases, one pillow, one comfortable, one spread, and two teaspoons.

SUGGESTIONS TO NEW STUDENTS.

1. Arrive in Berea the day before the term opens.
2. The street car at the station passes in front of the College building. The conductors will, if asked, give new students needed information.
3. Persons desiring to be met at the station by some one connected with the College, should inform the President by letter of the time of their arrival.

COURSES OF STUDY.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to any department of the College must present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character. Those coming from other colleges must present a certificate of honorable dismissal, and give satisfactory evidence of being qualified for the classes which they purpose to enter.

1. The requirements for admission to the Freshman class are the studies of the Preparatory Department, or their equivalent.

2. Students from other colleges will be received on their certificates without examination, and be ranked upon showing of grades, independent of rank held in colleges from which they come.

3. A student from any good public school will receive credit on a certificate from his teacher, according to the nature and amount of work which he has done.

EXPLANATION OF COURSES.

Classes recite five days in a week, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays. There are no college exercises on Mondays, except Literary Society work.

The word "course" is used in two senses; in the first it denotes one of the four, Classical, Philosophical, Scientific, Literary, which lead to degrees. When used in this sense it will be printed with a capital letter. In the second it denotes one fourth of one year's work; as, a course in Mathematics means one study (as Algebra), pursued through the three terms of a college year. In this sense, a student takes four courses per year; as Latin, Greek, Mathematics, History.

The capital letters, A B C D E F G, are used to denote the courses in a given subject, if there be more than one course in that branch. The various courses will be exhibited in detail in the following pages. See page 28 and following.

If a person wishes to know, for example, what Latin D consists of, he must refer to the subject Latin, Page 36, where under Latin D he will find that in the fall term Horace's Odes and Epodes, in the winter Horace's Satires and Epistles, and in the spring Cicero's Cato Major and Lælius compose the course. Likewise any course in the tables can be ascertained by similar reference to the groups, beginning page 34.

The same explanations apply also to the Normal Courses. The requirement of a county certificate in the Normal work means that examination in Common School branches by county examiners must be passed as a condition for completion of the Normal course. A certificate from any county in Ohio will be accepted. Certificates from other states will be considered on their merits. Persons who have taken common school branches in the university and obtained a county certificate, may, upon application, receive a certificate from the university. Students who have completed the Normal course will receive a diploma.

Recitations in the preparatory and Normal and College classes last fifty minutes, the remaining ten minutes of each hour being allowed for intermission.

 Business Hours to be announced.

Figures 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 denote rooms in which recitations occur.

G. W. C. denotes recitations held in German Wallace College.

Students, except those in common branches, may not take more than four studies per term, though Music or Art may be taken in addition to those four. Students in Literary Course may take both Music and Art.

Students must obtain consent of faculty in order to be allowed to take out studies in absentia. The request must state the class to which the student belongs, and must name the studies to be thus taken. The amount of study thus to be taken must not exceed one fourth of that year's work ; the student must take a private examination in each term's work of each study, for each of which he must pay $2.50 on or before the day of examination. Time and place of taking the examination to be agreed upon by the applicant and professor in charge of the department to which the study belongs.

Students while in college may make up work by private study and private examination. The amount of work thus made up must not exceed one study per term. The student must at beginning of the term obtain consent of faculty to take work in this way.

As a rule, students must remain in college for any given term until their examinations have closed. Should circumstances require their leaving before examinations, a request to faculty should be made for privilege of private examination. If granted, the applicant must pay a fee of $1.00 to the professor or tutor conducting such examination.

Students are expected to pursue systematic courses in choosing electives. They should know in advance of their entering upon Junior year studies what they will elect. In order to make wise use of their privileges, students are entitled to seek advice from members of faculty. Unregulated choice will not be allowed.

In order to prevent confusion and defeat in carrying out elective courses, students should carefully consult the Recitation Schedule, to see whether all studies they propose to take can be taken without conflict, not only for a term, or a year ; but also throughout the years through which the courses will run.

The Recitation Schedules are permanent. Two studies placed at the same hour cannot both be taken the same year. Alternations between classes will not be allowed. Therefore, choice of studies must always have reference to Recitation Schedules.

RHETORIC. A.

PROFESSOR BRAWN.

In the fall term, Mead's Rhetoric; in the winter, Clark's; and in the spring, Clark's completed. The texts are selected with the purpose of giving clearness of theory, combined with much practice on all the points covered by practical Rhetoric. This course is required in all Courses, in the Junior Preparatory.

NORMAL.

1st Year.—Instruction in the common branches will be given continually with regularity and system. An opportunity is thus afforded for those who desire to review studies for teachers' examinations; for those whose education for any cause is deficient in some or all branches of common school studies, who may wish to supply their lack under the very best conditions; for those who have entered upon one or the other of the courses of study, who may in addition desire to do more work in the common branches; also for those who wish to take the Normal Course. The studies are those upon which a person is examined for a teacher's common school certificate, and no other.

Reading.—The Heart of Oak Series, No. IV. will be used.

Writing.—The Spencerian system of writing, its principles and practice, will be taught. This course in writing will not aim at making the ornate penmanship of the professional penmanship schools, but at teaching right forms and improving the natural hand. It may be pursued for two years or even more if desired.

Spelling.—Spelling will be taught both by rules and by dictation and correction of lists.

Orthography.—Orthography will be so taught that a student entering at any term of the year will find the class at a point where he can advantageously begin.

Arithmetic.—Arithmetic will extend throughout the entire year. The text used will be White's. If practicable, during the year, additional texts may be used for those desiring to take advanced work in Arithmetic.

English Grammar.—The text used will be Reed and Kellogg's Lessons in Higher English. Any one, by beginning at the opening of the year, can master the study as rapidly as the class advances. Diagraming is taught in connection with the analysis of sentences.

United States History.—Thomas's History of the United States. This study will continue through the year, three recitations per week.

Geography.—The Eclectic series of geographies are in use. This branch will cover the entire subject during the year, recitations twice each week.

Physiology.—In fall term, Martin's Human Body will be the text; in the winter the same study and same text will be begun again and the course repeated; in the spring it will be repeated again. By this means a student who wishes to do so can get Physiology any term, or can review it during the same year, even twice if desired.

Theory and Practice.—In the fall term, DeGraff's School Room Guide will be the text; in the winter, Thring's Theory and Practice; in the spring, Baldwin's Applied Psychology. The texts are not specially related to each other, but each one contains instruction on the Theory and Practice of Teaching. Any one term of this work will suffice, and it will matter not much which of the terms is taken: hence a student can enter at any term. Likewise, if a student desire, he can take several terms of it, thereby gaining the advantage of suggestions from several texts, and the general review of the subject involved in studying two or three books.

SECOND YEAR.

Mathematics B.—In fall term, Wentworth's Higher Algebra to page 109; in the winter term, the same work is continued to page 207; in the spring, the same text is used, and work carried to page 277.

1897-8. History Ea.—In the fall term, Introduction to the Middle Ages, Emerton; in the winter, Montgomery's History of France; in the spring, Montgomery's History of England. Omitted in 1896-7.

History Eb.—In the fall term, The Colonies, Thwaite; in the winter, Formation of the Union, Hart; in the spring, American Politics, Johnston. Students who spend more than one year at Normal work may take both courses.

1897-8. Pedagogy F.—In the fall and winter terms, Compayre's Lectures on Pedagogy; in the spring the same author's History of Pedagogy. Omitted 1896-7.

1896-7. Pedagogy G.—In the fall, Rosenkrantz's Philosophy of Education; in the winter, De Garmo's Essentials of Method, one half term, and Rein's Outlines of Pedagogy, one half term; in the spring, Browning's History of Educational Theories, one half term, and William's History of Modern Education, one half term. Students who spend two years in the Normal work may obtain both courses.

ELECTIVES.—For the completion of the Normal Course it is further required that a student take a course selected from some one of the courses of the university. The student has the privilege of choice among all, but must use his privilege under advice of the faculty or of a member of the faculty.

PEDAGOGY.

1897-8 F. (Junior).—The following courses are given in Pedagogy: In the fall and winter terms, Compayre's Lectures on Pedagogy, Part I; in the spring term, History of Pedagogy, by the same author. Either this course or Course G is required in the Normal Course, while both F and G are open as electives to students of all courses in the College Department. Omitted in 1896-7.

1896-7. G. (Senior).—In fall, Rosenkrantz's Philosophy of Education; in the winter, De Garmo's Essentials of Method, one half term, and Rein's Outlines of Pedagogy, one half term; in the spring, Browning's History of Educational Theories, one half term, and William's History of Modern Education, one half term. This course, or F, is required in Normal Course, and is open to students in all college courses as an elective. It will thus be possible for a student in any of the courses to obtain two years of Pedagogy if desired.

BUSINESS.

1. Book-keeping.—Double and Single Entry, Estates, Commission, Partnership, Equation of Payments, Banking. The instruction is designed to cover all forms of actual Business Book-keeping. New and most approved methods will be employed. It will be possible for a student finishing this course to have as much of a preparation for business as anything short of actual experience in business life can give.

2. Commercial Arithmetic.—The adaptation of general arithmetic to the special needs of business, and the fuller treatment of specifically business portions, along with practice in the abridged methods in many processes, make this study supply a real need. There will be but one class, which will begin in the fall and continue through the year.
3. Correspondence.—Instruction will be given in the methods of Business correspondence, style in letter-writing, forms of notes, checks, drafts, bills, &c.
4. Rhetoric.—In the fall term, Mead's Rhetoric ; in the winter, Clark's ; in the spring, Clark's completed.
5. Stenography.—Instruction for beginners will be furnished each term of the school year. Students may enter at any time. One year of practice in this art will qualify a student to act as private secretary to a man of business.
6. Typewriting.—The Smith Premier Typewriters are in use. The keyboard is the Universal, so that a person learning this machine can at once use the Remington, Caligraph, Hammond Universal, and indeed most others.
7. Students paying regular tuition in the business department may take any study or studies in any department of the University free of cost ; provided, if they take studies for which regular college students are charged an additional fee, they must also pay that additional fee.

Graduation in the Business School—To obtain the diploma of the Business School of the University a student must present passing grades in all the common school branches, (see Normal, First Year, page 29). If the candidate can present a county teacher's certificate, that will be preferred as evidence of the successful passing of the common school branches. If he does not, grades from teachers showing that he has passed these branches will be accepted, provided no one of the grades is lower than 60 in a scale of 100. Any of the branches of this kind not yet taken may be taken here in connection with Business Studies. Any one of the three terms in Theory and Practice will suffice.

Next, the student must complete four of the six courses as given above.

ELOCUTION.

JOHN G. SCORER, M. O.

1. Teachers' Course. Thorough training in Vocal Culture, Respiration, Principles of Orthoepy, Principles of Expression, English, Grammar, Rhetoric, Principles of Gesture, Physical Culture, The Art of Fencing, Dramatic Reading and Recitation, Shakespeare, Shakespearean Grammar, Philosophy of the Voice, Science of English Verse, English Literature, Delsarte Philosophy, Bible and Hymn Reading, Dialect Readings, and character Impersonations.

This course is designed to cover two terms of thirty private and thirty class lessons each, and is intended to fit pupils for teaching in public schools and colleges.

Pupils devoting their entire time to this work may take three private lessons per week; those taking regular college work, one lesson per week in addition to their college work.

This course leads to the Degree of Bachelor of Science of Elocution.

2. Professional Course. Consists of the 'Teachers' Course and two additional terms of thirty private, and thirty class lessons each. It takes further advanced training, is wider in its scope, more exhaustive in its details, and more varied in its branches. This course is intended to fit pupils for teaching and for public performances. Pupils are earnestly recommended to take this course that they may secure the best results attainable. Total number of lessons in course 240. This course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Elocution.
3. Ministerial Course. Aims to impart ease to the speaker in presence of an audience, to develop and purify the voice, rendering it clear, full, sympathetic and powerful. Special attention is given to reading of the Bible and Hymn Book, the Liturgy and Sermons. The complete course consists of two terms, thirty private lessons each.
4. Speakers' Course. For lawyers, students and public speakers generally,—for all who desire to acquire a good form of oratorical address. Complete course consists of two terms of thirty lessons each.

5. General Classes. Will be formed and conducted throughout the college year. All classes are free to students taking up private work.

For further information address the president or professor in charge.

Special catalogue of Elocution department sent upon request.

HONORARY DEGREES.

The Degree of Doctor of Philosophy will not be conferred by this institution.

The Master's degree is conferred only in cursu, and on the following conditions.

1. That no person be deemed eligible to the Master's degree unless he be a regular graduate of a reputable college with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, of Science, of Philosophy, or of Letters.

2. That after graduation as a bachelor he be required to complete an advanced course of study of one year in residence, pass a satisfactory examination, and present a thesis which shall give evidence of ability to prosecute independent investigation; or, if residence be impracticable, that he be required to pursue and complete a prescribed two years course of study, in some one department, pass a satisfactory examination thereon, at the seat of the college, and present and maintain a thesis of at least four thousand words on some subject previously approved by the examiner, and connected with the course of study.

The above conditions are those recommended by the College Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which were formally adopted by the faculty of this university as rules to govern in the cases named.

STATEMENT.

The Baldwin University School of Music is a branch of the Cleveland School of Music, which is widely and favorably known as a school of sterling merit in the practical development of musical culture and technic. The courses of instruction represent the results of experience in every important institution of musical learning in the world. The instructors are all widely recognized as successful artists in their several departments, and bring before the student the authority and confidence of practical experience in class and concert room.

ADVANTAGES.

The nearness of Berea to Cleveland, and the organic connection between Baldwin University and the Cleveland School of Music, place at the command of the music department of the University, teachers of high rank and wide experience. All the art resources of a great city like Cleveland can be made available for the training and culture of the students of the University.

SCHOOL CONCERTS.

Recitals are given by students of the school. A Quarterly Concert is given at the close of each term, and the Annual Concert at the close of the year. The systematic study of the works of a Master Composer, or of music of a particular period or class, for the purpose of public recital, incites the student to deeper interest and greater earnestness of purpose, as the inexhaustible wealth of material for possible conquest is systematically opened to view; and by no more efficient means may breadth of style and conception be nourished and increased.

PIANO.

Correct methods from the first lesson in piano playing are of the utmost importance. Early habits of study determine the capacity of the advanced player for good execution and artistic expression, and such habits can only be formed by the clear explanations, judicious corrections and good example of a skillful teacher.

The study of Piano-forte is one of the most important parts of a musical education. It is indispensable to the singer, as with a knowledge of the piano he can better arrive at the full meaning of a vocal composition. As a preparation to the study of Organ playing, it cannot be dispensed with. To students of composition, an acquaintance with the great works in Sonata form is absolutely necessary for the formation of style, and these can only be intelligently studied by the use of the piano. The best editions of the Studies used throughout the Piano Course have been carefully selected and placed in the Library of the School for the use of students. Piano students in order to graduate must have studied Harmony and Musical History.

VOICE CULTURE.

Voice training is given especial prominence and attention in this institution, particular care being taken to develop pure vowel sounds, and rich, resonant tones. The Course of Study is broad and comprehensive, giving every possible aid to the rapid and natural strengthening of the organs without forcing, and to the awakening of an artistic sense and poetic feeling in the expression of musical ideas.

Mr. Arthur's collection of Vocal studies is not excelled in this country. These studies are supplied by the school Library upon payment of a small rental. In this way the students become acquainted with many valuable works without the great outlay necessary to their purchase. In addition to the Five Grades in the Vocal Course, the student is required to have studied Harmony three terms, Musical Expression two terms.

CHORAL CLASS.

The Choral Class is an organization of the students for instruction and drill in choral and church music. This class is under the direction of Professor W. C. Howell. The past year has been marked with unusual interest on the part of the students in vocal music. Whenever it is desired, classes will be formed for training in the elements of music. The expense connected with this class is merely nominal.

SPECIAL VOCAL CLASSES.

Young ladies' classes. When a sufficient number desire it classes will be formed in vocal instruction. The work will be of an elementary kind, and consist of instruction in formation of tones, in respiration, in articulation, in sight reading. Songs and duets will be studied. See Terms, page 23.

HARMONY.

What Grammar and Syntax are to language, Theory, Harmony, etc., are to Music. Without them broad musician-ship is impossible, and this is the reason why no music school of repute will graduate pupils that have not acquired at least a reasonable knowledge of Harmony. The work will be pursued on broad lines following in the main the most modern and celebrated system of Bussler-Urban.

ORCHESTRAL INSTRUMENTS.

A complete course of study, under teachers of the first rank, is provided for the Violin, the Flute, the Cornet, the Harp, the Guitar, the Zither and the Mandolin.

MUSICAL HISTORY.

Goethe says: "None understands a phenomenon, who is not penetrated by the process of its origination." This applies forcibly to the study of music. No one will fully comprehend the art or grasp the interpretation of art works in the different periods of history, who has not traced its historical development.

MUSICAL EXPRESSION.

A careful study of the Theory of Musical Expression, based upon the principles formulated by Lussy and Christiani. This course is valuable to students in all branches, and proves highly interesting and profitable, showing results of marked improvements in the playing and singing of those who complete it. All students are required to study one term of twenty lessons.

PRACTICE.

Habits of regular practice must be observed in order to gain satisfactory results. The lesson hour becomes a useless waste of time and energy unless carefully prepared for.

DIPLOMAS.

Diplomas will be conferred on students who have pursued the prescribed course. It is required that an entire programme of standard music shall be interpreted during the last term of the senior year.

Fee, $5.00.

In addition to the study of voice or some special instrument, the prescribed studies are as follows :

1. Harmony.
2. History of Music (two terms).
3. Quartette, or Choral Training, sufficient to enable the student to take charge of a choir or choral organization and successfully direct their practice and musical service.

Vocal students must have mastered the Piano Course through the third grade to enable them to play accompaniments and to pursue higher theoretical studies.

CONCERTS AND RECITALS.

There will be a concert given at the end of each term, and public and private recitals by the students during each term.

CERTIFICATES.

Certificates are conferred on vocal or instrumental students who have reached the third grade of study.

Fee, $1.00.

Advanced students who do not wish to take a full course will be given a certificate. Such students must have attended three consecutive terms. Two terms in Harmony and one term in Musical Expression must be included in this course, except in cases of unusual proficiency.

FINE ARTS.

ALBERTA E. JAMES, Instructor.

1. Drawing. Each term a class will be started in free-hand drawing, open to all students, free of charge.

2. Advanced work in Freehand Drawing. Students who desire to continue their work in drawing will, after the first term, be charged a small fee for tuition. See page 22.

3. A class in Outdoor Sketching. When the season permits a class will be formed and instruction will be given in this branch of fine art work.

4. Painting. From Still Life. Theory and Arrangement of Colors. Landscape. Flowers from Nature and from Copy. Wood Carving. China Decoration. Instruction both in Oil and in Water Colors.

The School is provided with Draperies and Casts to draw from, besides a large variety of studies from Nature for use of pupils, without extra charge.

Art may be taken by students in the Literary Course, and be counted towards the degree, and is elective in all other of the courses, though in them not allowed to count towards a degree.

CASE SCHOOL OF APPLIED SCIENCE.

We are able to bring the advantages of one of the foremost schools of applied science in the country within the reach of the young men who, by reason of their limited means, would be unable to pursue a four or seven years' course in the Case School itself.

By arrangement between the authorities of Case School and Baldwin University, students can pursue in Baldwin University through the Freshman year a scientific course equivalent to that in Case School, and then will be admitted to the Sophomore year of the Case School on certificate.
